MARYVILLE NATIONAL BANK AND GILLAM, BELLOWS & PIERCE LOAN COMPANY MERGED IN ONE STRONG ORGANIZATION

DEAL THAT REQUIRES $200,000

MODERN TWO-STORY BANKING BUILDING OF STONE WITH LATEST FIXTURES TO REPLACE OLD STRUCTURE—S. G. GILLAM RETIRES FROM NEW INSTITUTION—TO REMAIN IN MARYVILLE

One of the most important financial transactions that has occurred in Nodaway county in many years was announced today. S. G. Gillam has disposed of his holdings of stock in the Maryville National bank and the Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company and will retire from these institutions at an early date. His stock has been purchased by G. L. Wilfley; W. C. Pierce and C. D. Bellows.

The business of the Maryville National band and the Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company will be merged under the name of the "Farmers Trust Company" with a capital of $200,000.00.

The Trust company will commence as soon as possible, the erection on the old site of a modern banking house to be built of stone and equipped with the most modern banking fixtures. The new building will be two stories high and occupy the ground space now used by the Maryville National bank, the Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company, the Bellows Silo company and the Western Union telegraph and the Wells Fargo express companies.

It is announced that the new building will be under construction not later than next spring.

The new organization does not carry with it any change in business policy or business management beyond the withdrawal of Mr. Gillam and the entrance of Mr. C. D. Bellows into the active work of the institution. Mr. Bellows has been for years one of the heavy stockholders in both the bank and loan company, but has not been giving his time to the details of the business.

The two businesses have been for a number of years managed by officers owning the stock in both and in so far as business policy and management are concerned have been one. But the growth of the business has been so great that the need of a larger capitalization has been felt and an opportunity for a closer organization than could exist under the old organizations has been desired.

The organization of a trust company meets the requirements in every way. The laws under which trust companies operate give to the patrons of the institution and to the shareholders every guarantee that attends a national bank and yet enlarges the field of operation so that the banking business and the farm loan business can be operated together. The increase of the capital stock of the company to $200,000.00 furnishes an ample fund to meet the needs of the growing business.

The Maryville National bank is twenty-three years old, succeeding to the business of Baker, Saunders & Company, which business had an existence of fifteen years. The Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company was organized nearly twenty years ago, and in 1902 the combination was effected that brought the principal stockholders of each company together and the two businesses were combined in one room. Since that time the Maryville National bank has grown into one of the largest banking institutions in this part of the state and the farm loan business has become second to none.

S. H. Kemp, who has been a stockholder and cashier of the Maryville National for the last eight years, was cashier ofthe First National bank in this city for fifteen years previous to that time.

The Farmers Trust Company starts existence under the most auspicious circumstances. It is the successor to two of the livest institutions in this part of the country and it will be under the management of the same men who have been so conspiciously successful in the past and whose experience and ripened judgment should make them stronger than ever. The only change in the personnel of the management will be the withdrawal of Mr. Gillam and the appearance of Mr. Bellows into the active work of the institution. However, each department in the trust company will be enlarged and strengthened to meet the demands of the growing business.

Mr. Gillam, when seen by a representative of this paper, said: "In all probabilities, I will remain in Maryville in the banking and loan business, which business I have been in all my life. My plans are not ready to be announced. Suffice to say it will be under a strong organization with large capital."

Old Musician From Illinois Says the Cornetists Are Especially Good —He Thinks All Do Well.

Mr. Lui Hummell of Mathersville, Ill., who arrived in the city last week for a month's visit with the family of his sister, Mrs. Gottleb Maier, was one of the many auditors at the concert given Saturday night in the band stand by the Missouri Ladies' Military band. He had read of them and their fine reception in Washington, D. C., and was anxious to see and hear them. Mr Hummell is an old musician and singer, the master of many instruments, and is therefore capable of judging. He says the Maryville band girls have certainly done remarkably well for the short length of time they have been organized and is surprised they are able to play so well with the opposition they have had to contend with. He says the work of the cornetists is especially good and that they have it in them to do fine work if they will continue. This is from an old musician, girls, so don't mind what other folks say and go ahead, for he thinks you will win out.

This is the first time Mr. Hummell and his sister, Mrs. Maier have visited together in 29 years.

NO CALL FOR IDLE

THE BUSY MAN IS THE ONE CALLED TO LARGE TASK.

BETTER AGE IS COMING

The Prepared Man or Woman Is the One Who Succeeds in the Struggle With the World.

An audience of fifteen hundred people heard the baccalaureate sermon to the State Normal graduates at the First M. E. church Sunday night, delivered by Rev. Claude J. Miller of the First Christian church.

The singing for the service was by the choir of the First M. E. church, under direction of Mr. P. O. Landon, and was excellent, of course. Two anthems by Gaul were sung, one "They That Sow in Tears" and the other, "List, the Cherubic Hosts," with baritone obligato solo by Rev. G. S. Cox.

Other pastors of the city, Rev. Cox, Rev. S. D. Harkness and Rev. J. D. Randolph, took part in the services, and President Ira R. Richardson of the Normal announced the events for this week at the Normal, which closes the school year proper.

Reverend Miller chose as his theme "The Choice of a Vocation;" text, Ephesians 4:1.—"I, therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called."

Reverend Miller said in part:

"There is a trill and beauty about these commencement days that will never come again. You may attend other institutions of learning and commune with the great masters of the present and past, but you will always reflect with pleasure upon these commencement hours. These moments will be the turning point in the journey of the years.

"You are standing tonight upon the threshold of life's great building. You are looking down its corridors, asking the question: 'What shall I do with my life? What shall I choose as a life vocation?' You are standing upon the shores of life's great ocean of truth. You have heard the call of the deep. Now you are asking: 'Whither shall I go? What shall I choose?'

"With every normal life there is a desire to do something. The little bird must leave the home nest and shift for itself. It must try its own wings, its own strength.

"In the olden days, the days of the ancient Jews, the boy always followed the same vocation as his father. While he could profit by his father's experience and learn the pitfalls and dangers, this course was often marked by a fundamental misfit. Many times the boy was not of proper temperment to adapt himself to his father's line of work.

"The idea of vocational training has become, in five states, a part of the curiculum in the schools. It is the idea of our present system to help the young man or woman find their proper work.

"It is folly to try to part from all the old moorings, yet we must be open to conviction and remember the golden age is in the present and future, not in the past. We are unfolding into a greater day, into a better age, the utopian age is to be. It will come when we are willing to bring it about.

"The body is a unit, yet many members. The eye needs the hand, the hand the ear, so in society we need the physician, the merchant, the farmer, etc. We must have a variety of vocations for our own good, for the good of society.

"In all these vocations we see many who have won and lost. How has this come to pass? Was their choice a matter of luck? No, there is no such thing as luck. From the drop of rain to the control of the planets, this world is one of law. Many a sweet life of promise has given up hope because they thought dame fortune unkind. This voice from the dark ages cannot have a place in our present life. The fault, when we fail, is generally with ourselves. 'The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings.' The vocations are not to blame as a general thing, the fault is a lack of application.

"The president of the Hannibal and St. Joe railroad began his career thirty-six years ago carrying water for the section men. He performed his part well and was soon called to a larger task. No man of idle hand or brain was ever called by God or man to a large task. Joseph, Moses, Matthew and all the leading men of the Kingdom were not called while playing the part of an idler, but from work. Choose something you love, then stick to it with all your power. There is but one royal road to success—work.

"Now in the third place, where shall we begin in our life vocation? All agree that we must begin at the bottom of the ladder. If we insist on going in the big end of the horn we will certainly come out at the little end of the horn. We may go up like a skyrocket, shooting sparks every way, and come down a dead stick. We better stay below and grow up gradually. 'He that humbleth himself shall be exalted, and he that exalteth himself shall be humbled.'

"The call today, as never before, is for prepared men and women. The unprepared will be left behind in the race, they cannot meet the competition. Whatever you choose, prepare yourself carefully—you will need the reserve for some future call.

"If you desire followers you may have them; but remember this: The world will follow any man or woman who will follow Jesus Christ."

The class program will be given Tuesday afternoon and in the evening, the class play, "Lost, a chaperon," will be staged, both program and play to be given in the auditorium of the Normal. The commencement exercises will take place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Normal.

DIED IN ST. LOUIS.

Miss Rebecca Miller Passed Away Saturday Evening After Two Weeks' Illness of Brain Fever.

Miss Rebecca Miller, the twenty-year-old daughter of the late Mrs. Delila Miller of this city, died Saturday evening at 8:40 o'clock at the home of her sister Mrs. Marvin Boyle, 5505 Virginia avenue, St. Louis, after a two weeks' illness of brain fever, which was at first thought to be spinal meningitis.

Announcement of the young woman's death was received Monday morning in Maryville by the young woman's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Miller of South Dewey street. Funeral and burial services took place Monday in St. Louis.

Miss Miller was a sweet, attractive girl, gifted in music, and the news of her death will be heard with sincere regret by many young friends, among them the members of the Philathea class of the First Christian Church Bible school, of which she was a member.

Miss Miller was a sister of the late Mrs. Oda Hubbell, who with her husband and two little children were murdered and their bodies burned with their house on the night of November 20, 1910, for which atrocious crime Hez Rasco was hanged April 6, 1911.

The mother of the murdered young woman and of the young woman whose death occurred Saturday, went into a decline from the time of the tradedy, and attending physicians gave it as their opinion that she died of a broken heart, when her death occurred a few months later. She was the widow of the late Isaac Miller of this county.

Surviving the young woman are her sisters, Mrs. Marvin Boyle and Miss Bertha Miller of St. Louis, Mrs. Fred Stalling of Barnard and four brothers, Bert Miller of Oregon county, Mo., Irvin and Joe Miller of St. Louis and Roy Miller of Stanton, N. Dak.

USED CHLOROFORM

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND DEAD ON FARM NEAR TOWN.

PREPARED FOR DEATH

In Addition to Unused Chloroform the Stranger Also Had Strychnine—Will Endeavor to Identify Him.

A man, whose identity could not be learned, was found dead Monday morning about 11 o'clock at an old unoccupied house on the F. C. Conrad farm two and a half miles northwest of the city. He was discovered by Ed Vulgamott, who resides in that community.

Coroner Will Wallis, Jr., Sheriff Ed Wallace and Marshal E. C. Moberly left for the scene at once when Mr. Vulgamott told them of finding the dead man. Upon investigation by Dr. Wallis, he found that death was probably accidental and was caused from inhaling chloroform. The man had been dead for some time and it is thought that he died some time between three and five o' clock Sunday afternoon. His lips were not burned by the chloroform, as his handkerchief had been saturated with the drug, probably for the purpose of putting him to sleep. He had used about one ounce of the drug in saturating his handkerchief and the chloroform bottle still had one ounce left when found by Dr. Wallis. In addition to the chloroform, strychnine was found in his clothes, but none had been used. In addition to these drugs, a pocket book, containing 40 cents, a pair of glasses, and a key ring with "Darland Hotel, Lawrence, Kan., 26" was found. The label on the chloroform bottle had the name of Joseph H. Shackleford, Westboro, Mo. The label on the strychnine bottle had the name of M. A. Funchess, druggist, Topeka, Kan. No letter or anything else was found in his clothes.

The man was probably about forty-five years old and had been a tramp farm hand. He had on a pair of overalls and boots, and was lying on his coat as a pillow when found. He was seen walking down the road from the North by Mr. Vulgamott on Sunday afternoon about three o'clock. Other people in that community saw him. On Sunday evening when Louis Neidel went after the cows, he passed the old house and noticed the stranger, but paid no attention, except to tell Mr. Vulgamott's son that a tramp was asleep in the old house. Mr. Vulgamott passed the house on his way to Maryville Monday morning about seven o'clock and he noticed the stranger in the house, but he thought he was asleep. On returning from the city, Vulgamott noticed that the stranger was still there, so he decided to investgate and found him dead.

The remains were taken to Price & McNeal undertaking parlors and an effort will be made to find out his identity.

DON'T CARRY INSURANCE.

Steeple Jack Who Painted Power House Smoke Stack Says Rates Are Too High.

Arthur Legault, steeple jack, who hails from Kansas City, has just finished putting a coat of paint on the 125-foot smoke stack of the electric light plant and will tarry in our city long enough to brighten up the Everhart ice plant stack a bit.

Legault thinks no more of being suspended by a couple of pulley ropes from those dizzy heights than we would of painting the lawn swing with a six-foot step ladder. Some of the steeple jack's recent achievements in pursuit of his vocation are the painting of a 295-foot smoke stack in Texas and a flag pole on top of a hotel in Salt Lake City, 450 feet in mid-air.

"How much life insurance do you carry?" Legault was asked. "I don't carry 'none' the rate is too steep," answered the airman, shifting a "goose-egg" to the opposite corner of his mouth and pulling his cap down over one eye. "Besides, I 'ain't' had any accidents yet."

Sanitation.

By James A. Edgerton.

The warfare of this age is against disease germs, dirt and unsanitary conditions.

We swat the fly, drain the swamp, clean up the refuse heaps and back alleys, get rid of the breeding grounds and carriers of microbes.

This is all good, wholesome and necessary, only it has not gone far enough.

It has not gone far enough in a physical way. The whole nation should take up the crusade and literally clean house.

But especially—

It has not gone far enough in a mental way. We should have sanitary thoughts.

Nor has it gone far enough in a moral way. We must lead clean lives. We must do this for reasons of public health if for not higher considerations.

We must get disease not only out of our back yards, but out of our minds.

We are coming more and more to recognize the value of the factor of psychology. We are doing this in business, in the school and in our sizing up of our fellow men. We must also do it in the matter of health.

Man is not solely or chiefly physical. His mentality is the distinctive and dominating thing in his makeup.

Therefore, the sanitary movement must include this most important part. It must be not only of the outside, but of the inside.

The mind has a greater control of the body than any of us has perhaps realized. Why cannot this control be used for health?

In the last analysis this is a matter for each individual. It should not be left to practitioners who ply their trade for money. It should be a thing of common knowledge and common practice.

We should get over our fear of imaginary things. There is nothing to be afraid of except ourselves.

All the good of the universe is for us if we are for the good of the universe. We suffer only what we ourselves create. If it seems otherwise we have not looked far enough. We are more complex beings than we realize, and the causes in us may reach back farther than we imagine. We manifest that which we are. We live out that which we have fashioned.

The only thing for us is to get in harmony with the mental, moral, physical and human law. We must think health, rightness, success, wholeness on every plane and faith in each other and in the soul of things.

Let us have sanitary surroundings by all means. But let us also have sanitary minds.

WON LAST AT HOME.

Normals Retrieved Themselves By Winning From Amity Saturday, 9 to 5.

The Normal baseball team played their last at-home game of the season Saturday and celebrated the wind-up contest with a win over Amity college by a score of 9 to 5, which by the way, was the first victory for the locals this season.

Captain "Shylock" Wilson adorned the mound for the home boys and with the exception of a couple of rounds when the enemy got their tallies, the Jew had the Collegians feeding out of his hand. He allowed eight safe swats and whiffed nine of the opposition. Big Ed Adams starred with the war club for the locals. He registered three safe hits, one a double, in four trips to the plate and scored two tallies.

The teachers took the lead in the second inning when they counted two on hits by Lamar, Bird and Britain. They scored again in the third, fifth, sixth and eight innings for a total of nine runs.

For the visitors, Lynch, who played third and pitched, was the main strength. Two of his three swats figured in the Amity's scoring.

Coach Moore will wind up the baseball season this week with a three days' trip, starting Thursday morning. The Normals will meet Tarkio on Thursday, Peru Normal on Friday and their opponents of last Saturday for the final game on Saturday.

Bricker's Bible School Won.

Maryville friends of Rev. L. O. Bricker of Atlanta, Ga., a former pastor of the Maryville Christian church have been watching interestedly for the final outcome in the big Bible school contest for students between Rev. Bricker's church and the Second Baptist church in Atlanta. It seems that the workers are not yet through, although last Sunday closed the contest proper. A brief word received from Reverend Bricker Saturday says that the Christian Church Bible school won by 8,000 points, and that they expected a larger attendance Sunday. It is supposed by this word that the work has grown so big that churches are not going to give it up. It is surely a wonderful thing these two churches have accomplished in securing the attendance of thousands in the two schools.

Mrs. Eva Davis and sons, Donald and Leland, of Bolckow, who have been visiting Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Alkire, went to Barnard Saturday evening for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Lowell Campbell.

Miss Mary Snyder of Barnard was in Maryville Saturday for her weekly study at the conservatory.

IS ALL CONCRETE

EVERYTHING MODERN AT THE FORSYTH SLAUGHTER HOUSE.

BIG IMPROVEMENT MADE

Not Only at the Slaughter House, But at the Sales Room, Many Changes for the Better Have Been Made.

"Yes, everything about this place is concrete except father," said Luther E. Forsyth the other day when a reporter for the Democrat-Forum visited the Forsyth slaughter houses to see some improvements that have been made there.

But when we stopped to think of the things this same father has been working at steadily for thirty years in building up one of the most substantial businesses in the city and laying the foundation for a good packing house that is bound to materialize some day, besides founding the cement block and tile factory in our city, we concluded that "Father" had all the qualities of concrete, anyway.

Ed Forsyth the "father" referred to, is Maryville's pioneer meat market man and cement block manufacturer. He has built up one of the best slaughter houses to be found in any town in the state, following up ideas of his own in seeking to make the place sanitary and permanent.

The slaughter house and barns are located on East Seventh street, the big Wabash railway trestle being on the north side of the pastures. The pastures contain twelve acres and there are two large barns for sheltering the cattle, hogs and sheep in bad weather. Seventh street divides the pastures, passing between them to Depot street. A concrete tunnel, 90 feet long, connects the two pastures, stock being driven from one to the other across under Seventh street without hindering traffic along that street.

The slaughtering house is 40 feet wide and 140 feet long and is of concrete throughout, flooring and all. The hot and cold water service is excellent and in five minutes after the slaughtering is done for the day, one could not tell that any had been going on. The slaughtered stock is placed on steel runners and sent to the cooling room, which is in fact an immense old fashioned ice box containing fourteen feet of solid ice, where the meat is prepared for market. Then there are the salt rooms where meat is cured, and the cellar where the hides are properly cared for.

The big smoke houses are of concrete, and there is a big steel rendering tank for tallow sunk in a concrete floor, and an immense steam jacket lard kettle.

A very noticeable thing was the fact that in going over the entire place there was not as much odor as there is in the kitchen where the housekeeper is rendering the lard from the one hog butchered for the family's use.

Mr. Forsyth has his own ice plant, too. The creek that winds through the pasture furnishes the water for it. Mr. Forsyth has constructed a dam of concrete, whose gates are closed at the proper freezing time, and then the ice is taken out of the creek through a chute up to the ice house and does not have to be handled. When the right amount of ice is stored the dam's gates are thrown open again until the next ice season.

Mr. Forsyth has just completed a refrigerator and window show case that is an innovation here, and is, for the most part, his own idea. An electric motor and pumps, ammonia and a brine tank furnish the means for keeping the show window and case for the cuts of meat ready for sale at a temperature of from 32 to 38 degrees above zero. About 800 feet of piping is used to and from the machinery around the refrigerators and it only takes about an hour's pumping each day to keep the temperature down properly. The refrigerator is sixteen feet long and three feet wide and both the show window and refrigerator have three thickness of glass, with air spaces, and is perfectly sanitary. The front of the refrigerator is prepared cork, painted white, as the entire interior of the market and private office is.

Luther E. Forsyth is now the sole owner, having purchased the interest of his father, who has built a big business and laid a strong foundation for a bigger business in the future.

More Live on Porches

Each summer more people adopt the English plan of spending the warm afternoons and evenings in the shady flower-clad gardens or under the cool retreat of a leafed-in porch.

The lazy, sun-touched breeze of summer is the best tonic in the world for work-tired nerves.

Summers at home are more delightful than any trip to crowded lakes and inconvenient camps if you take your summer at home with the vacation spirit.

Instead of sticking a few discarded broken and unsightly chairs out on the front porch—an eye-sore to you and your neighbors—make your porch as attractive as your living room.

Plan it with care. Let us help you. Beautiful porch furniture is not expensive. You will be repaid every day during the warm months for your thoughtfulness.

We would suggest "Rustic Hickory Furniture," because hickory is the toughest, strongest and most pliable of our native woods; it stands all kinds of weather with placid indifference

WAR TALK IS ADVISED AGAINST

Tokyo Newspapers Recognize Difficulties Confronting Wilson.

TO INSIST ON WORLD'S RESPECT

People of Japan Feel California Land Bill Is Racial and Not Economic Measure — Equal Treatment for Whites and Nonwhites Demanded.

Tokyo, May 19.—Faith in the American people to see that justice is done the Japanese is the dominating note in the discussion of the California alien land ownership legislation. War talk is denounced as ridiculous and only calculated to embarrass the two governments, which are laboring for a peaceful settlement by diplomacy.

It is conceded, however, that failure on the part of the Americans to respond to the Japanese's appeal for a discontinuance of the alleged discrimination would be liable to lead to some estrangement of the peoples. The Japanese public generally is convinced that the land bill is a racial and not an economic measure, and hence a blow to national pride, and the people feel that the world must be taught the necessity of equal treatment for the whites and nonwhites.

Praise for Wilson.

The Tokyo newspapers are loud in their praise of President Wilson's zeal in his endeavors to preserve the traditional friendship, and they recognize the difficulties which confront the president of the United States in the confusing conflict between state and federal rights.

The Nichi Nichi is of the opinion that the question as to whether the Washington government can procure for the Japanese equal rights depends upon the strength of Japanese diplomacy, and urges the government to take a firm attitude.

A joint celebration of the Japanese and American peace societies was attended by 1,000 Japanese. Speeches were made by Count Okuma, former minister of foreign affairs; Baron Yoshiro Sakatani, mayor of Tokyo, and Tsunejiro Miyacka, who was chancellor of the Japanese embassy at Washington in 1906. All the speakers endeavored to clarify the situation and decried jingoism.

Count Okuma was loudly applauded when he compared the attitude of the California legislators with the anti-foreign movement in Japan half a century ago, which he looked upon as an abased race prejudice.

Tells of Change of Feeling.

"We despised the foreigners," he said, "because they looked different; we did not consider them human beings. Japan finally saw the falsity of its position and became an admirer of everything western. The same causes underlie the California question, but like the Japanese, the Californians will see the folly of their position and truth and justice will triumph.

"At some future day the Californians will laugh at their fathers and grandfathers for driving off the Japanese, just as we laugh now at the anti-foreign absurdities of the Samurai."

WILL INVESTIGATE COLLEGES

Baptists May Put Them Under Convention's Supervision.

St. Louis, May 19.—The Southern Baptist convention voted to authorize a committee of seventeen to investigate the educational system of the church and determine whether the denominational schools should be under the supervision of the convention in the same manner as are the theological seminaries. The committee of seventeen was instructed to report next year on the advisability of such supervision.

Mrs. Curl Likely to Recover.

St. Paul, May 19.—Mrs. J. J. Curl, who entered into a suicide pact with her husband, who was being sought by federal officials and who died of his wounds, probably will recover. She passed an easy day and unless pneumonia results from the bullet wound in her breast there is little danger, physicians say.

Briton and Wife Slay Five Mexicans.

Aguas Calientes, May 19.—John Walker, a British mine owner, and his wife, fighting shoulder to shoulder, recently killed five and wounded three men out of a band of eleven employees at the mine near Villa Garcia, Zacatecas. Mr. and Mrs. Walker arrived here under escort of troops.

Sixty-seven Chinese Burned to Death.

Shanghai, May 19.—Sixty-seven farmers of Shenchowting, in western Honan, who had resisted attempts of the soldiers to destroy their crops of opium, were burned to death in a building where they were holding a meeting. Soldiers started the fire.

Grain Company in Bankruptcy.

Chicago, May 19.—A petition to have the Truby Grain company of Joliet, Ill., declared bankrupt was filed by the Lampson Bros.' company. The debts were stated to be in excess of $145,000 and the assets less than $100,000.

Fifteen Bodies Taken From Mine.

Belle Valley, O., May 19.—The bodies of fifteen men have been recovered from the Imperial mine, where two explosions resulted in the death of fourteen miners and one rescuer.

BRYAN DENOUNCES WARS FOR PROFITS

Flays Subsidized Patriotism and Sensational Newspapers.

Washington, May 19.—Vigorous denunciation of a "subsidized patriotism which seeks to create war because of the profits in armor plate and battle ships," and of the "sensational and mercenary newspapers which prefer big scare headlines to the truth," marked an address by Secretary Bryan here at a Hague anniversary meeting, held under the auspices of the Washington Peace society.

"War is in the interest of a few people, not of all," Mr. Bryan declared. "The profits are garnered by a few, while the masses pay the taxes. War rests upon feeling, not upon necessity. Back of much of the furore for war is a selfish interest in the manufacture of battle ships. And there are men so unpatriotic that they try to stir up trouble in another country against their own so as to make personal profit therefrom. Is there any baser use for money?"

"The people are learning to discriminate also," he continued, "between patriotic newspapers and those that work only for big headlines. I was glad to see the attack Secretary Daniels made on this sensationalism. I hope to see this discrimination by the people increase."

Preparation for war encourages war, he added, those nations that spend most of their time getting ready for war standing the best chance of going to war. He said it was possible to change the ideal of the world, just as can be done with an individual, and that the ideal of peace would prevail throughout the world after a time.

CHEERFUL NEWS

For Feeble Old People.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

A grandniece of Alexander Hamilton over eighty years of age once remarked: "Vinol is a god-send to old people. Thanks to Vinol, I have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, feel active and well. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I have ever used."

DEMOCRATS IN LINE ON TARIFF

Wilson's Firm Stand Puts Opposition to Rout.

SENATE TO MAKE NO CHANGE

Finance Committee to Leave House Provisions for Free Wool and Sugar Stand—Underwood Soon to Call Meeting of Committee.

Washington, May 19.—The effect of President Wilson's public declaration that there would be no compromise on free wool and free sugar in three years in the new tariff bill has been the subject of constant discussion since the chief executive made his pronunciamento last week.

Administration leaders declare that the president's vigorous assertion has served to strengthen the party lineup in the senate.

Before the president came out so strongly in the face of the tremendous lobby influence that completely surrounds the capitol, the legislative air was surcharged with uncertainty. On every hand was heard the report that the finance committee was planning to put a duty on wool or to cut out the three-year free sugar provision and to leave sugar at the end of a three-year period with a small tariff.

Only Two Break Away.

But when the president reaffirmed his determination to stand by the schedules, which he virtually dictated into the tariff bill, only Senators Ransdell and Thornton of Louisiana broke through the party lines to remain outside until the end.

The interpretation of the Democratic platform as relating to free sugar given by Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, as spokesman for the administration, gave a further indication of the exact situation.

Senator James declared that the party did favor free sugar; that it campaigned on that issue, and, with the knowledge of the president, he challenged anyone to find a man who could truthfully assert that Woodrow Wilson ever said he opposed free sugar. Again the administration scored.

For two or perhaps three weeks the bill will be in the hands of the finance committee and, whatever other schedules may be altered, the assurance has gone out that no change in wool or sugar. Again the administration scored bill reaches the party caucus. There behind closed doors, the Democratic senators will have their final conference on the bill. The caucus, it is understood, will be a binding one.

To Senate in June.

The bill will get to the senate as soon after June 1 as the leaders possibly can get it there. Considerable changes in the metal, cotton and chemical schedules are anticipated. This will necessitate a conference after the senate passes the bill.

The organization of committees is the principal business confronting the house leaders. Majority Leader Underwood has nearly completed his preliminary slate of committee assignments, and he expects to call a meeting of the Democrats of the ways and means committee Wednesday to go over his slate.

The currency question will be taken up by the house leaders this week.

LAMENTABLE ARMY OF VICE

Fifteen Thousand Women Ply Trade in Gotham.

New York, May 19.—Fifteen thousand women of the underworld—a scarlet army no census has heretofore enumerated—ply their trade in one borough of Greater New York alone. This is the estimate of the bureau of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is which John D. Rockafeller, Jr., is chairman, as made public in an abstract of a forthcoming report by George J. Kneeland, a special investigator, after a painstaking inquiry into commercialized vice conditions in Manhattan, extending over a period of nearly ten months.

The report suggests no remedies, fixes no responsibility. That phase is to be dealt with later on.

Aside from a series of chapters dealing in minute frankness with the operation of notorious resorts throughout the city, the report treats of the dance hall evil and of the alarming spread of the so called massage parlors.

WATERS OF PACIFIC LET INTO PANAMA CANAL.

Panama, May 19.—The waters of the Pacific ocean were let into the Panama canal. A giant blast of 32,500 pounds of dynamite was shot, demolishing the dike to the south of the Miraflores locks and allowing the water to flow into an extension section, in which excavation has been completed.

Police Protect Umpire From Mob.

Newark, N. J., May 19.—A decision by Umpire Hayes of the International league that a ball knocked over the right field fence was fair led to a player being taken from the field by the police, and later officers were forced to escort the umpire from the grounds to a train, amid a hail of bottles, stones, cushions and other missiles.

THE PATERSON STRIKE.

Patrick Quinlan, I. W. W. Leader, Addresses Great Crowd After His Trial.

Photos by American Press Association.

The personal magnetism of Patrick Quinlan, one of the labor leaders in the Paterson (N. J.) strike, is shown in the enormous crowds that greet him whenever he speaks in public. The above group is a part of the throng he addressed after he had been convicted of "inciting to riot." He was out on bail awaiting sentence when the protographer snapped him.

THREATEN TO CALL GENERAL STRIKE

I. W. W. Leaders Protest Against Quinlan Conviction.

New York, May 19.—Standing in a drizzling rain in Union square, after tramping fifteen miles from Paterson, N. J., to a Hudson river ferry to reach New York, several hundred silk mill strikers, augmented by New York members of the Industrial Workers of the World, and strike sympathizers cheered the declarations of their leaders that Paterson would come to an industrial stop for forty-eight hours, beginning Wednesday morning, in a protest against the conviction of Patrick Quinlan.

"If necessary, we will call a general strike throughout the United States and will tie up the country to take these men out of jail," declared Robert Plunkett, broadening the scope of threats made by other speakers, who were Quinlan, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Fred Boyd and Adolph Lessig.

Quinlan in his speech said: "We are fighting an ostensibly American company, but really controlled by the Japanese. Instead of acting for California, attention should be given to the Japanese who are living on the blood of the people of Paterson. We are going to win this strike or Paterson will be wiped off the map. As an industrial center, Paterson will be a wilderness unless we win. The people will move out and leave the city. We don't need dynamite. We have dynamite of intelligence, of brain, of organization to fight with. The beginning of an industrial revolution is about to take place in Paterson and when that is finished a political revolution will start in that city."

PLAN CLOSER RELATIONS

Department of Agriculture to Get Into Touch With Farm Colleges.

Washington, May 19.—Closer relations in the work of the department of agriculture to that of agricultural colleges and experiment stations was assured at a conference here between Sercetary Houston, Assistant Secretary Galloway and representatives of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations.

The department, it was said after the conference, desires to co-operate along many lines recognized that the state colleges and the experiment stations should be the official agencies through which most of the agricultural work of the country should be undertaken.

CELEBRATED ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. Randolph Preached Sermon Sunday Morning to Baraca Class at Ravenwood Which He Organized.

It is not often that a Bible school class of young men undertakes to monopolize a morning church service, but the Baraca class of the Southern Methodist Bible school at Ravenwood is capable of doing even bigger things than that.

Sunday was the fifth anniversary of the organization of the class, which took its present form during the pastorate of the Rev. J. D. Randolph, now pastor of the Buchanan street M. E. church, South, of Maryville. Rev. Mr. Randolph was chosen to preach an anniversary sermon for the class, Sunday morning, his subject being, "The Average Man."

Miss Nellie Sims has been teacher of the class from the time of its organization. It has a complete corps of officers and committees, Chas. DeLong being president at this time. The enrollment is about twenty-five.

In addition to the regular Sunday morning meetings of the class, picnics, banquets and outings are frequent. Last Saturday night an anniversary banquet was given at the church, to which the young ladies' class, known as the Philatheas, was invited. About sixty persons attended. The class also takes a lively interest in the contest now in progress between their own school and that at Guilford. Attendance is one of the things counted in the contest, and the number at the Ravenwood school Sunday was 140.

Communcation

Democrat-Forum:

In your issue of May 14, in making mention of a delegation from Skidmore who appeared before the county highway commission to present the claims of this town in the selection of the Maryville to Oregon route, the name of Wm. Skidmore was mentioned as one of the party or delegates. Your reporter must have got mixed a little. I am the only Wm. Skidmore, W. J. Skidmore or Billy Skidmore in this vicinity and I—that is all three of us, Wm. W. J. and Billy are sure we were not present at the hearing.

I was not solicited to go and did not know of the matter until it was too late. Whether I would have gone had I been solicited I do not know. If the other fellow was there he certainly deserves the credit, for it is very commendable in the gentlemen who were interested enough to go.

In the face of the fact that only recently hardly one-third of the voters of this, Monroe, township favored making our roads better by putting in permanent improvements, it would seem like a difficult proposition to present much of an argument in favor of selecting the route by way of Skidmore if the condition of the roads were alone to be considered.

I would rather the route would be selected by way of Skidmore, and other things being equal, it would be less expense for this county, as the mileage would be shorter than any other route.

The Sheep.

The other day in a Cleveland school, this composition was handed in by a little German boy:

"The sheep are weak and foolish animals. They are very useful. We can use everything on them except their bleat. The sheep learn their shepherd very easy, but otherwise they are dumb animals.

"They eat hay grass, and carrot soup. And the captain of the sheep is called the Belle-buck."—June Woman's Home Companion.

You can't kill them with stomach medicine or sprays because they can't get where germs are.

You can kill these germs with Booth's HYMOEI, a penetrating, antiseptic, balsamic air that you breathe a few times a day directly over the raw, sore, germ infested membrane. It does not contain morphine or any habit forming drug.

WILL ORGANIZE TRUST CO.

MARYVILLE NATIONAL BANK AND GILLAM, BELLOWS & PIERCE LOAN COMPANY MERGED IN ONE STRONG ORGANIZATION

MODERN TWO-STORY BANKING BUILDING OF STONE WITH LATEST FIXTURES TO REPLACE OLD STRUCTURE—S. G. GILLAM RETIRES FROM NEW INSTITUTION—TO REMAIN IN MARYVILLE

One of the most important financial transactions that has occurred in Nodaway county in many years was announced today. S. G. Gillam has disposed of his holdings of stock in the Maryville National bank and the Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company and will retire from these institutions at an early date. His stock has been purchased by G. L. Wilfley; W. C. Pierce and C. D. Bellows.

The business of the Maryville National band and the Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company will be merged under the name of the "Farmers Trust Company" with a capital of $200,000.00.

The Trust company will commence as soon as possible, the erection on the old site of a modern banking house to be built of stone and equipped with the most modern banking fixtures. The new building will be two stories high and occupy the ground space now used by the Maryville National bank, the Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company, the Bellows Silo company and the Western Union telegraph and the Wells Fargo express companies.

It is announced that the new building will be under construction not later than next spring.

The new organization does not carry with it any change in business policy or business management beyond the withdrawal of Mr. Gillam and the entrance of Mr. C. D. Bellows into the active work of the institution. Mr. Bellows has been for years one of the heavy stockholders in both the bank and loan company, but has not been giving his time to the details of the business.

The two businesses have been for a number of years managed by officers owning the stock in both and in so far as business policy and management are concerned have been one. But the growth of the business has been so great that the need of a larger capitalization has been felt and an opportunity for a closer organization than could exist under the old organizations has been desired.

The organization of a trust company meets the requirements in every way. The laws under which trust companies operate give to the patrons of the institution and to the shareholders every guarantee that attends a national bank and yet enlarges the field of operation so that the banking business and the farm loan business can be operated together. The increase of the capital stock of the company to $200,000.00 furnishes an ample fund to meet the needs of the growing business.

The Maryville National bank is twenty-three years old, succeeding to the business of Baker, Saunders & Company, which business had an existence of fifteen years. The Gillam, Bellows & Pierce Loan company was organized nearly twenty years ago, and in 1902 the combination was effected that brought the principal stockholders of each company together and the two businesses were combined in one room. Since that time the Maryville National bank has grown into one of the largest banking institutions in this part of the state and the farm loan business has become second to none.

S. H. Kemp, who has been a stockholder and cashier of the Maryville National for the last eight years, was cashier ofthe First National bank in this city for fifteen years previous to that time.

The Farmers Trust Company starts existence under the most auspicious circumstances. It is the successor to two of the livest institutions in this part of the country and it will be under the management of the same men who have been so conspiciously successful in the past and whose experience and ripened judgment should make them stronger than ever. The only change in the personnel of the management will be the withdrawal of Mr. Gillam and the appearance of Mr. Bellows into the active work of the institution. However, each department in the trust company will be enlarged and strengthened to meet the demands of the growing business.

Mr. Gillam, when seen by a representative of this paper, said: "In all probabilities, I will remain in Maryville in the banking and loan business, which business I have been in all my life. My plans are not ready to be announced. Suffice to say it will be under a strong organization with large capital."

Returned to Kansas.

Mrs. W. L. Perdew of Burton, Kan., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edward Yahrmark, living southwest of Maryville, left for her home Monday morning.

Mrs. J. B. Moore left Monday morning for the state Rebekah convention at Excelsior Springs. She will be joined at Kansas City by her daughter, Miss Blanche Moore, who is visiting Mrs. J. D. Hogue of that city. Mrs. Virgil Guthrie of Wilcox also left for the convention Monday morning.

COMPLIMENTED OUR GIRLS' BAND.

Old Musician From Illinois Says the Cornetists Are Especially Good —He Thinks All Do Well.

Mr. Lui Hummell of Mathersville, Ill., who arrived in the city last week for a month's visit with the family of his sister, Mrs. Gottleb Maier, was one of the many auditors at the concert given Saturday night in the band stand by the Missouri Ladies' Military band. He had read of them and their fine reception in Washington, D. C., and was anxious to see and hear them. Mr. Hummell is an old musician and singer, the master of many instruments, and is therefore capable of judging. He says the Maryville band girls have certainly done remarkably well for the short length of time they have been organized and is surprised they are able to play so well with the opposition they have had to contend with. He says the work of the cornetists is especially good and that they have it in them to do fine work if they will continue. This is from an old musician, girls, so don't mind what other folks say and go ahead, for he thinks you will win out.

This is the first time Mr. Hummell and his sister, Mrs. Maier have visited together in 29 years.

NO CALL FOR IDLE

THE BUSY MAN IS THE ONE CALLED TO LARGE TASK.

BETTER AGE IS COMING

The Prepared Man or Woman Is the One Who Succeeds in the Struggle With the World.

An audience of fifteen hundred people heard the baccalaureate sermon to the State Normal graduates at the First M. E. church Sunday night, delivered by Rev. Claude J. Miller of the First Christian church.

The singing for the service was by the choir of the First M. E. church, under direction of Mr. P. O. Landon, and was excellent, of course. Two anthems by Gaul were sung, one "They That Sow in Tears" and the other, "List, the Cherubic Hosts," with baritone obligato solo by Rev. G. S. Cox.

Other pastors of the city, Rev. Cox, Rev. S. D. Harkness and Rev. J. D. Randolph, took part in the services, and President Ira R. Richardson of the Normal announced the events for this week at the Normal, which closes the school year proper.

Reverend Miller chose as his theme "The Choice of a Vocation;" text, Ephesians 4:1.—"I, therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called."

Reverend Miller said in part:

"There is a trill and beauty about these commencement days that will never come again. You may attend other institutions of learning and commune with the great masters of the present and past, but you will always reflect with pleasure upon these commencement hours. These moments will be the turning point in the journey of the years.

"You are standing tonight upon the threshold of life's great building. You are looking down its corridors, asking the question: 'What shall I do with my life? What shall I choose as a life vocation?' You are standing upon the shores of life's great ocean of truth. You have heard the call of the deep. Now you are asking: 'Whither shall I go? What shall I choose?'

"With every normal life there is a desire to do something. The little bird must leave the home nest and shift for itself. It must try its own wings, its own strength.

"In the olden days, the days of the ancient Jews, the boy always followed the same vocation as his father. While he could profit by his father's experience and learn the pitfalls and dangers, this course was often marked by a fundamental misfit. Many times the boy was not of proper temperment to adapt himself to his father's line of work.

"The idea of vocational training has become, in five states, a part of the curiculum in the schools. It is the idea of our present system to help the young man or woman find their proper work.

"It is folly to try to part from all the old moorings, yet we must be open to conviction and remember the golden age is in the present and future, not in the past. We are unfolding into a greater day, into a better age, the utopian age is to be. It will come when we are willing to bring it about.

"The body is a unit, yet many members. The eye needs the hand, the hand the ear, so in society we need the physician, the merchant, the farmer, etc. We must have a variety of vocations for our own good, for the good of society.

"In all these vocations we see many who have won and lost. How has this come to pass? Was their choice a matter of luck? No, there is no such thing as luck. From the drop of rain to the control of the planets, this world is one of law. Many a sweet life of promise has given up hope because they thought dame fortune unkind. This voice from the dark ages cannot have a place in our present life. The fault, when we fail, is generally with ourselves. 'The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings.' The vocations are not to blame as a general thing, the fault is a lack of application.

"The president of the Hannibal and St. Joe railroad began his career thirty-six years ago carrying water for the section men. He performed his part well and was soon called to a larger task. No man of idle hand or brain was ever called by God or man to a large task. Joseph, Moses, Matthew and all the leading men of the Kingdom were not called while playing the part of an idler, but from work. Choose something you love, then stick to it with all your power. There is but one royal road to success—work.

"Now in the third place, where shall we begin in our life vocation? All agree that we must begin at the bottom of the ladder. If we insist on going in the big end of the horn we will certainly come out at the little end of the horn. We may go up like a skyrocket, shooting sparks every way, and come down a dead stick. We better stay below and grow up gradually. 'He that humbleth himself shall be exalted, and he that exalteth himself shall be humbled.'

"The call today, as never before, is for prepared men and women. The unprepared will be left behind in the race, they cannot meet the competition. Whatever you choose, prepare yourself carefully—you will need the reserve for some future call.

DIED IN ST. LOUIS.

Miss Rebecca Miller Passed Away Saturday Evening After Two Weeks' Illness of Brain Fever.

Miss Rebecca Miller, the twenty-year-old daughter of the late Mrs. Delila Miller of this city, died Saturday evening at 8:40 o'clock at the home of her sister Mrs. Marvin Boyle, 5505 Virginia avenue, St. Louis, after a two weeks' illness of brain fever, which was at first thought to be spinal meningitis.

Announcement of the young woman's death was received Monday morning in Maryville by the young woman's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Miller of South Dewey street. Funeral and burial services took place Monday in St. Louis.

Miss Miller was a sweet, attractive girl, gifted in music, and the news of her death will be heard with sincere regret by many young friends, among them the members of the Philathea class of the First Christian Church Bible school, of which she was a member.

Miss Miller was a sister of the late Mrs. Oda Hubbell, who with her husband and two little children were murdered and their bodies burned with their house on the night of November 20, 1910, for which atrocious crime Hez Rasco was hanged April 6, 1911.

The mother of the murdered young woman and of the young woman whose death occurred Saturday, went into a decline from the time of the tradedy, and attending physicians gave it as their opinion that she died of a broken heart, when her death occurred a few months later. She was the widow of the late Isaac Miller of this county.

Surviving the young woman are her sisters, Mrs. Marvin Boyle and Miss Bertha Miller of St. Louis, Mrs. Fred Stalling of Barnard and four brothers, Bert Miller of Oregon county, Mo., Irvin and Joe Miller of St. Louis and Roy Miller of Stanton, N. Dak.

USED CHLOROFORM

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND DEAD ON FARM NEAR TOWN.

PREPARED FOR DEATH

In Addition to Unused Chloroform the Stranger Also Had Strychnine—Will Endeavor to Identify Him.

A man, whose identity could not be learned, was found dead Monday morning about 11 o'clock at an old unoccupied house on the F. C. Conrad farm two and a half miles northwest of the city. He was discovered by Ed Vulgamott, who resides in that community.

Coroner Will Wallis, Jr., Sheriff Ed Wallace and Marshal E. C. Moberly left for the scene at once when Mr. Vulgamott told them of finding the dead man. Upon investigation by Dr. Wallis, he found that death was probably accidental and was caused from inhaling chloroform. The man had been dead for some time and it is thought that he died some time between three and five o' clock Sunday afternoon. His lips were not burned by the chloroform, as his handkerchief had been saturated with the drug, probably for the purpose of putting him to sleep. He had used about one ounce of the drug in saturating his handkerchief and the chloroform bottle still had one ounce left when found by Dr. Wallis. In addition to the chloroform, strychnine was found in his clothes, but none had been used. In addition to these drugs, a pocket book, containing 40 cents, a pair of glasses, and a key ring with "Darland Hotel, Lawrence, Kan., 26" was found. The label on the chloroform bottle had the name of Joseph H. Shackleford, Westboro, Mo. The label on the strychnine bottle had the name of M. A. Funchess, druggist, Topeka, Kan. No letter or anything else was found in his clothes.

The man was probably about forty-five years old and had been a tramp farm hand. He had on a pair of overalls and boots, and was lying on his coat as a pillow when found. He was seen walking down the road from the North by Mr. Vulgamott on Sunday afternoon about three o'clock. Other people in that community saw him. On Sunday evening when Louis Neidel went after the cows, he passed the old house and noticed the stranger, but paid no attention, except to tell Mr. Vulgamott's son that a tramp was asleep in the old house. Mr. Vulgamott passed the house on his way to Maryville Monday morning about seven o'clock and he noticed the stranger in the house, but he thought he was asleep. On returning from the city, Vulgamott noticed that the stranger was still there, so he decided to investgate and found him dead.

The remains were taken to Price & McNeal undertaking parlors and an effort will be made to find out his identity.

DON'T CARRY INSURANCE.

Steeple Jack Who Painted Power House Smoke Stack Says Rates Are Too High.

Arthur Legault, steeple jack, who hails from Kansas City, has just finished putting a coat of paint on the 125-foot smoke stack of the electric light plant and will tarry in our city long enough to brighten up the Everhart ice plant stack a bit.

Legault thinks no more of being suspended by a couple of pulley ropes from those dizzy heights than we would of painting the lawn swing with a six-foot step ladder. Some of the steeple jack's recent achievements in pursuit of his vocation are the painting of a 295-foot smoke stack in Texas and a flag pole on top of a hotel in Salt Lake City, 450 feet in mid-air.

"How much life insurance do you carry?" Legault was asked. "I don't carry 'none' the rate is too steep," answered the airman, shifting a "goose-egg" to the opposite corner of his mouth and pulling his cap down over one eye. "Besides, I 'ain't' had any accidents yet."

Sanitation.

By James A. Edgerton.

The warfare of this age is against disease germs, dirt and unsanitary conditions.

We swat the fly, drain the swamp, clean up the refuse heaps and back alleys, get rid of the breeding grounds and carriers of microbes.

This is all good, wholesome and necessary, only it has not gone far enough.

It has not gone far enough in a physical way. The whole nation should take up the crusade and literally clean house.

But especially—

It has not gone far enough in a mental way. We should have sanitary thoughts.

Nor has it gone far enough in a moral way. We must lead clean lives. We must do this for reasons of public health if for not higher considerations.

We must get disease not only out of our back yards, but out of our minds.

We are coming more and more to recognize the value of the factor of psychology. We are doing this in business, in the school and in our sizing up of our fellow men. We must also do it in the matter of health.

Man is not solely or chiefly physical. His mentality is the distinctive and dominating thing in his makeup.

Therefore, the sanitary movement must include this most important part It must be not only of the outside, but of the inside.

The mind has a greater control of the body than any of us has perhaps realized. Why cannot this control be used for health?

In the last analysis this is a matter for each individual. It should not be left to practitioners who ply their trade for money. It should be a thing of common knowledge and common practice.

We should get over our fear of imaginary things. There is nothing to be afraid of except ourselves.

All the good of the universe is for us if we are for the good of the universe. We suffer only what we ourselves create. If it seems otherwise we have not looked far enough. We are more complex beings than we realize, and the causes in us may reach back farther than we imagine. We manifest that which we are. We live out that which we have fashioned.

The only thing for us is to get in harmony with the mental, moral, physical and human law. We must think health, rightness, success, wholeness on every plane and faith in each other and in the soul of things.

Let us have sanitary surroundings by all means. But let us also have sanitary minds.

WON LAST AT HOME.

Normals Retrieved Themselves By Winning From Amity Saturday, 9 to 5.

The Normal baseball team played their last at-home game of the season Saturday and celebrated the wind-up contest with a win over Amity college by a score of 9 to 5, which by the way, was the first victory for the locals this season.

Captain "Shylock" Wilson adorned the mound for the home boys and with the exception of a couple of rounds when the enemy got their tallies, the Jew had the Collegians feeding out of his hand. He allowed eight safe swats and whiffed nine of the opposition. Big Ed Adams starred with the war club for the locals. He registered three safe hits, one a double, in four trips to the plate and scored two tallies.

The teachers took the lead in the second inning when they counted two on hits by Lamar, Bird and Britain. They scored again in the third, fifth, sixth and eight innings for a total of nine runs.

For the visitors, Lynch, who played third and pitched, was the main strength. Two of his three swats figured in the Amity's scoring.

Coach Moore will wind up the baseball season this week with a three days' trip, starting Thursday morning. The Normals will meet Tarkio on Thursday, Peru Normal on Friday and their opponents of last Saturday for the final game on Saturday.

Bricker's Bible School Won.

Maryville friends of Rev. L. O. Bricker of Atlanta, Ga., a former pastor of the Maryville Christian church have been watching interestedly for the final outcome in the big Bible school contest for students between Rev. Bricker's church and the Second Baptist church in Atlanta. It seems that the workers are not yet through, although last Sunday closed the contest proper. A brief word received from Reverend Bricker Saturday says that the Christian Church Bible school won by 8,000 points, and that they expected a larger attendance Sunday. It is supposed by this word that the work has grown so big that churches are not going to give it up. It is surely a wonderful thing these two churches have accomplished in securing the attendance of thousands in the two schools.

Mrs. Eva Davis and sons, Donald and Leland, of Bolckow, who have been visiting Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Alkire, went to Barnard Saturday evening for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Lowell Campbell.

Miss Mary Snyder of Barnard was in Maryville Saturday for her weekly study at the conservatory.

IS ALL CONCRETE

EVERYTHING MODERN AT THE FORSYTH SLAUGHTER HOUSE.

BIG IMPROVEMENT MADE

Not Only at the Slaughter House, But at the Sales Room, Many Changes for the Better Have Been Made.

"Yes, everything about this place is concrete except father," said Luther E. Forsyth the other day when a reporter for the Democrat-Forum visited the Forsyth slaughter houses to see some improvements that have been made there.

But when we stopped to think of the things this same father has been working at steadily for thirty years in building up one of the most substantial businesses in the city and laying the foundation for a good packing house that is bound to materialize some day, besides founding the cement block and tile factory in our city, we concluded that "Father" had all the qualities of concrete, anyway.

Ed Forsyth the "father" referred to, is Maryville's pioneer meat market man and cement block manufacturer. He has built up one of the best slaughter houses to be found in any town in the state, following up ideas of his own in seeking to make the place sanitary and permanent.

The slaughter house and barns are located on East Seventh street, the big Wabash railway trestle being on the north side of the pastures. The pastures contain twelve acres and there are two large barns for sheltering the cattle, hogs and sheep in bad weather. Seventh street divides the pastures, passing between them to Depot street. A concrete tunnel, 90 feet long, connects the two pastures, stock being driven from one to the other across under Seventh street without hindering traffic along that street.

The slaughtering house is 40 feet wide and 140 feet long and is of concrete throughout, flooring and all. The hot and cold water service is excellent and in five minutes after the slaughtering is done for the day, one could not tell that any had been going on. The slaughtered stock is placed on steel runners and sent to the cooling room, which is in fact an immense old fashioned ice box containing fourteen feet of solid ice, where the meat is prepared for market. Then there are the salt rooms where meat is cured, and the cellar where the hides are properly cared for.

The big smoke houses are of concrete, and there is a big steel rendering tank for tallow sunk in a concrete floor, and an immense steam jacket lard kettle.

A very noticeable thing was the fact that in going over the entire place there was not as much odor as there is in the kitchen where the housekeeper is rendering the lard from the one hog butchered for the family's use.

Mr. Forsyth has his own ice plant, too. The creek that winds through the pasture furnishes the water for it. Mr. Forsyth has constructed a dam of concrete, whose gates are closed at the proper freezing time, and then the ice is taken out of the creek through a chute up to the ice house and does not have to be handled. When the right amount of ice is stored the dam's gates are thrown open again until the next ice season.

Mr. Forsyth has just completed a refrigerator and window show case that is an innovation here, and is, for the most part, his own idea. An electric motor and pumps, ammonia and a brine tank furnish the means for keeping the show window and case for the cuts of meat ready for sale at a temperature of from 32 to 38 degrees above zero. About 800 feet of piping is used to and from the machinery around the refrigerators and it only takes about an hour's pumping each day to keep the temperature down properly. The refrigerator is sixteen feet long and three feet wide and both the show window and refrigerator have three thickness of glass, with air spaces, and is perfectly sanitary. The front of the refrigerator is prepared cork, painted white, as the entire interior of the market and private office is.

Luther E. Forsyth is now the sole owner, having purchased the interest of his father, who has built a big business and laid a strong foundation for a bigger business in the future.

WAR TALK IS ADVISED AGAINST

Tokyo Newspapers Recognize Difficulties Confronting Wilson.

People of Japan Feel California Land Bill Is Racial and Not Economic Measure — Equal Treatment for Whites and Nonwhites Demanded.

Tokyo, May 19.—Faith in the American people to see that justice is done the Japanese is the dominating note in the discussion of the California alien land ownership legislation. War talk is denounced as ridiculous and only calculated to embarrass the two governments, which are laboring for a peaceful settlement by diplomacy.

It is conceded, however, that failure on the part of the Americans to respond to the Japanese's appeal for a discontinuance of the alleged discrimination would be liable to lead to some estrangement of the peoples. The Japanese public generally is convinced that the land bill is a racial and not an economic measure, and hence a blow to national pride, and the people feel that the world must be taught the necessity of equal treatment for the whites and nonwhites.

Praise for Wilson.

The Tokyo newspapers are loud in their praise of President Wilson's zeal in his endeavors to preserve the traditional friendship, and they recognize the difficulties which confront the president of the United States in the confusing conflict between state and federal rights.

The Nichi Nichi is of the opinion that the question as to whether the Washington government can procure for the Japanese equal rights depends upon the strength of Japanese diplomacy, and urges the government to take a firm attitude.

A joint celebration of the Japanese and American peace societies was attended by 1,000 Japanese. Speeches were made by Count Okuma, former minister of foreign affairs; Baron Yoshiro Sakatani, mayor of Tokyo, and Tsunejiro Miyacka, who was chancellor of the Japanese embassy at Washington in 1906. All the speakers endeavored to clarify the situation and decried jingoism.

Count Okuma was loudly applauded when he compared the attitude of the California legislators with the anti-foreign movement in Japan half a century ago, which he looked upon as an abased race prejudice.

Tells of Change of Feeling.

"We despised the foreigners," he said, "because they looked different; we did not consider them human beings. Japan finally saw the falsity of its position and became an admirer of everything western. The same causes underlie the California question, but like the Japanese, the Californians will see the folly of their position and truth and justice will triumph.

"At some future day the Californians will laugh at their fathers and grandfathers for driving off the Japanese, just as we laugh now at the anti-foreign absurdities of the Samurai."

Baptists May Put Them Under Convention's Supervision.

St. Louis, May 19.—The Southern Baptist convention voted to authorize a committee of seventeen to investigate the educational system of the church and determine whether the denominational schools should be under the supervision of the convention in the same manner as are the theological seminaries. The committee of seventeen was instructed to report next year on the advisability of such supervision.

Mrs. Curl Likely to Recover.

St. Paul, May 19.—Mrs. J. J. Curl, who entered into a suicide pact with her husband, who was being sought by federal officials and who died of his wounds, probably will recover. She passed an easy day and unless pneumonia results from the bullet wound in her breast there is little danger, physicians say.

Briton and Wife Slay Five Mexicans.

Aguas Calientes, May 19.—John Walker, a British mine owner, and his wife, fighting shoulder to shoulder, recently killed five and wounded three men out of a band of eleven employees at the mine near Villa Garcia, Zacatecas. Mr. and Mrs. Walker arrived here under escort of troops.

Sixty-seven Chinese Burned to Death.

Shanghai, May 19.—Sixty-seven farmers of Shenchowting, in western Honan, who had resisted attempts of the soldiers to destroy their crops of opium, were burned to death in a building where they were holding a meeting. Soldiers started the fire.

Grain Company in Bankruptcy.

Chicago, May 19.—A petition to have the Truby Grain company of Joliet, Ill., declared bankrupt was filed by the Lampson Bros.' company. The debts were stated to be in excess of $145,000 and the assets less than $100,000.

Fifteen Bodies Taken From Mine.

Belle Valley, O., May 19.—The bodies of fifteen men have been recovered from the Imperial mine, where two explosions resulted in the death of fourteen miners and one rescuer.

BRYAN DENOUNCES WARS FOR PROFITS

Flays Subsidized Patriotism and Sensational Newspapers.

Washington, May 19.—Vigorous denunciation of a "subsidized patriotism which seeks to create war because of the profits in armor plate and battle ships," and of the "sensational and mercenary newspapers which prefer big scare headlines to the truth," marked an address by Secretary Bryan here at a Hague anniversary meeting, held under the auspices of the Washington Peace society.

"War is in the interest of a few people, not of all," Mr. Bryan declared. "The profits are garnered by a few, while the masses pay the taxes. War rests upon feeling, not upon necessity. Back of much of the furore for war is a selfish interest in the manufacture of battle ships. And there are men so unpatriotic that they try to stir up trouble in another country against their own so as to make personal profit therefrom. Is there any baser use for money?"

"The people are learning to discriminate also," he continued, "between patriotic newspapers and those that work only for big headlines. I was glad to see the attack Secretary Daniels made on this sensationalism. I hope to see this discrimination by the people increase."

Preparation for war encourages war, he added, those nations that spend most of their time getting ready for war standing the best chance of going to war. He said it was possible to change the ideal of the world, just as can be done with an individual, and that the ideal of peace would prevail throughout the world after a time.

CHEERFUL NEWS

For Feeble Old People.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

A grandniece of Alexander Hamilton over eighty years of age once remarked: "Vinol is a god-send to old people. Thanks to Vinol, I have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, feel active and well. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I have ever used."

DEMOCRATS IN LINE ON TARIFF

Wilson's Firm Stand Puts Opposition to Rout.

SENATE TO MAKE NO CHANGE

Finance Committee to Leave House Provisions for Free Wool and Sugar Stand—Underwood Soon to Call Meeting of Committee.

Washington, May 19.—The effect of President Wilson's public declaration that there would be no compromise on free wool and free sugar in three years in the new tariff bill has been the subject of constant discussion since the chief executive made his pronunciamento last week.

Administration leaders declare that the president's vigorous assertion has served to strengthen the party lineup in the senate.

Before the president came out so strongly in the face of the tremendous lobby influence that completely surrounds the capitol, the legislative air was surcharged with uncertainty. On every hand was heard the report that the finance committee was planning to put a duty on wool or to cut out the three-year free sugar provision and to leave sugar at the end of a three-year period with a small tariff.

Only Two Break Away.

But when the president reaffirmed his determination to stand by the schedules, which he virtually dictated into the tariff bill, only Senators Ransdell and Thornton of Louisiana broke through the party lines to remain outside until the end.

The interpretation of the Democratic platform as relating to free sugar given by Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, as spokesman for the administration, gave a further indication of the exact situation.

Senator James declared that the party did favor free sugar; that it campaigned on that issue, and, with the knowledge of the president, he challenged anyone to find a man who could truthfully assert that Woodrow Wilson ever said he opposed free sugar. Again the administration scored.

For two or perhaps three weeks the bill will be in the hands of the finance committee and, whatever other schedules may be altered, the assurance has gone out that no change in wool or sugar. Again the administration scored bill reaches the party caucus. There behind closed doors, the Democratic senators will have their final conference on the bill. The caucus, it is understood, will be a binding one.

To Senate in June.

The bill will get to the senate as soon after June 1 as the leaders possibly can get it there. Considerable changes in the metal, cotton and chemical schedules are anticipated. This will necessitate a conference after the senate passes the bill.

The organization of committees is the principal business confronting the house leaders. Majority Leader Underwood has nearly completed his preliminary slate of committee assignments, and he expects to call a meeting of the Democrats of the ways and means committee Wednesday to go over his slate.

The currency question will be taken up by the house leaders this week.

LAMENTABLE ARMY OF VICE

Fifteen Thousand Women Ply Their Trade in Gotham.

New York, May 19.—Fifteen thousand women of the underworld—a scarlet army no census has heretofore enumerated—ply their trade in one borough of Greater New York alone. This is the estimate of the bureau of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is chairman, as made public in an abstract of a forthcoming report by George J. Kneeland, a special investigator, after a painstaking inquiry into commercialized vice conditions in Manhattan, extending over a period of nearly ten months.

The report suggests no remedies, fixes no responsibility. That phase is to be dealt with later on.

Aside from a series of chapters dealing in minute frankness with the operation of notorious resorts throughout the city, the report treats of the dance hall evil and of the alarming spread of the so called massage parlors.

WATERS OF PACIFIC LET INTO PANAMA CANAL.

Panama, May 19.—The waters of the Pacific ocean were let into the Panama canal. A giant blast of 32,500 pounds of dynamite was shot, demolishing the dike to the south of the Miraflores locks and allowing the water to flow into an extension section, in which excavation has been completed.

Police Protect Umpire From Mob.

Newark, N. J., May 19.—A decision by Umpire Hayes of the International league that a ball knocked over the right field fence was fair led to a player being taken from the field by the police, and later officers were forced to escort the umpire from the grounds to a train, amid a hail of bottles, stones, cushions and other missiles.

THE PATERSON STRIKE.

Patrick Quinlan, I. W. W. Leader, Addresses Great Crowd After His Trial.

Photos by American Press Association.

The personal magnetism of Patrick Quinlan, one of the labor leaders in the Paterson (N. J.) strike, is shown in the enormous crowds that greet him whenever he speaks in public. The above group is a part of the throng he addressed after he had been convicted of "inciting to riot." He was out on bail awaiting sentence when the protographer snapped him.

THREATEN TO CALL GENERAL STRIKE

I. W. W. Leaders Protest Against Quinlan Conviction.

New York, May 19.—Standing in a drizzling rain in Union square, after tramping fifteen miles from Paterson, N. J., to a Hudson river ferry to reach New York, several hundred silk mill strikers, augmented by New York members of the Industrial Workers of the World, and strike sympathizers cheered the declarations of their leaders that Paterson would come to an industrial stop for forty-eight hours, beginning Wednesday morning, in a protest against the conviction of Patrick Quinlan.

"If necessary, we will call a general strike throughout the United States and will tie up the country to take these men out of jail," declared Robert Plunkett, broadening the scope of threats made by other speakers, who were Quinlan, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Fred Boyd and Adolph Lessig.

Quinlan in his speech said: "We are fighting an ostensibly American company, but really controlled by the Japanese. Instead of acting for California, attention should be given to the Japanese who are living on the blood of the people of Paterson. We are going to win this strike or Paterson will be wiped off the map. As an industrial center, Paterson will be a wilderness unless we win. The people will move out and leave the city. We don't need dynamite. We have dynamite of intelligence, of brain, of organization to fight with. The beginning of an industrial revolution is about to take place in Paterson and when that is finished a political revolution will start in that city."

CELEBRATED ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. Randolph Preached Sermon Sunday Morning to Baraca Class at Ravenwood Which He Organized.

It is not often that a Bible school class of young men undertakes to monopolize a morning church service, but the Baraca class of the Southern Methodist Bible school at Ravenwood is capable of doing even bigger things than that.

Sunday was the fifth anniversary of the organization of the class, which took its present form during the pastorate of the Rev. J. D. Randolph, now pastor of the Buchanan street M. E. church, South, of Maryville. Rev. Mr. Randolph was chosen to preach an anniversary sermon for the class, Sunday morning, his subject being, "The Average Man."

Miss Nellie Sims has been teacher of the class from the time of its organization. It has a complete corps of officers and committees, Chas. DeLong being president at this time. The enrollment is about twenty-five.

In addition to the regular Sunday morning meetings of the class, picnics, banquets and outings are frequent. Last Saturday night an anniversary banquet was given at the church, to which the young ladies' class, known as the Philatheas, was invited. About sixty persons attended. The class also takes a lively interest in the contest now in progress between their own school and that at Guilford. Attendance is one of the things counted in the contest, and the number at the Ravenwood school Sunday was 140.

Communcation

Democrat-Forum:

In your issue of May 14, in making mention of a delegation from Skidmore who appeared before the county highway commission to present the claims of this town in the selection of the Maryville to Oregon route, the name of Wm. Skidmore was mentioned as one of the party or delegates. Your reporter must have got mixed a little. I am the only Wm. Skidmore, W. J. Skidmore or Billy Skidmore in this vicinity and I—that is all three of us, Wm. W. J. and Billy are sure we were not present at the hearing.

I was not solicited to go and did not know of the matter until it was too late. Whether I would have gone had I been solicited I do not know. If the other fellow was there he certainly deserves the credit, for it is very commendable in the gentlemen who were interested enough to go.

In the face of the fact that only recently hardly one-third of the voters of this, Monroe, township favored making our roads better by putting in permanent improvements, it would seem like a difficult proposition to present much of an argument in favor of selecting the route by way of Skidmore if the condition of the roads were alone to be considered.

I would rather the route would be selected by way of Skidmore, and other things being equal, it would be less expense for this county, as the mileage would be shorter than any other route.
